Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1,3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Heinkel (ger. 558802). The skin of Heinkel is fireproof and anti wear.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 2,4,6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Heinkel (ger 558802) in view of Blaes et al (3029046).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the wing of Heinkel with the under wing means 18 of Blaes et al since it will make the seaplane of Heinkel more stable in the water. The material of 18 is fireproof (to a degree) and antiwear.

1. Claims 3,5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Heinkel (ger 558802) in view of Arnstein et al (2349584).

Art Unit: 3644

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the bottom of Heinkel with a wear layer as taught by 21 of Arnstein et al since it will protect the hull.

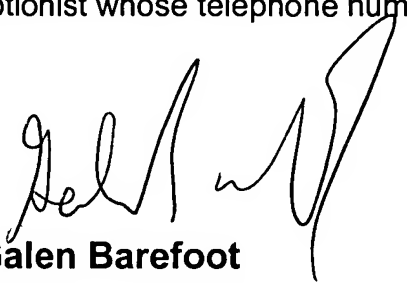

2. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
